WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT WORMS?

Cows or pigs swallow tapeworm eggs on grass and cysts form in their meat, which we eat.

Pinworm eggs are laid on the skin near the anus. They are sticky, cause itching and get onto fingers during scratching.

Larvae penetrate skin of bare feet (and cause itching) to reach bloodstream.

Worm eggs in soil, dust and dirty water get onto vegetables, fruit and other food we eat.

Worm eggs in dust, blown by wind.
